

Far East Horizon's Future Development Plan

With the development strategy of ‘organic and effective combination of Finance and Industry’, Far East Horizon is committed to providing customers with customized and comprehensive industrial operation services through continuous innovation of products and services, and striving to realize the company’s mission of ‘Integrating global resources, promoting China’s industries’. In financial services, the company continues to create market space, strive to improve the customer coverage of financial services, and provide integrated services including debt financing, equity investment, consulting services, trade, engineering, etc; In terms of industrial operation, the company creatively integrates finance and industrial capital, closely grasps the huge resource integration and development opportunities generated by the evolution of China's basic industries, gradually builds a large nation-wide medical group, set up equipment operation service providers to meet the huge needs of the infrastructure industry, and develops high-end education groups serving domestic elites.